TUESDAY, Jan. 2-6 P. M. Tuesday, Jan. 2—6 P. M.
The stock market openedactive and buoyant this morning, but it did not continue to the close. Some of the fancies advanced a fraction, and holders began to feel that the new year had indeed opened brilliantly; but before the adjournment of the first board the suspension of Messrs. Wadsworth & Shelden was announced, and prices immediately fell off. Delaware and Hudson declined † per cent; Illinois Central bonds, †; Hudson River Railroad, †; Cumberland Coal, †; New York Central Railroad, †; Pennsylvania Coal Company, 1; Harlem, Cumberland Coal, 2; New York Central Railrota, 1; Pennsylvania Coal Company, 1; Harlem, 2; Nicaragua Transit, 2; New York Central bonds, 2. Erie Railroad went up 2 per cent; Reading Railroad, 2; New Jersey Zinc, 2; Illinois Central Railroad, 1; Canton Company, 1. After the board the market was heavy, and sales were made at a decline. At the second board prices were all down. Eric Railroad declined 1 per cent; Camberland Coal, 4; New York Central Railroad, 4; Nicaregua, 1; Reading Railroad, 1; Illinois Central bonds, It Eric income bonds, 1. This is rather a bad beginning for the new year, and looks as though the bear interest would prevail for a considerable time longer.

The failure of Wadsworth & Sheldon isappointed

many holders of Illinois State bonds, by not paying the interest due to-day. It was announced a few days since that the State would pay afteen dollars on each one hundred dollar bond This was equal to one and a-half per cent on the principal; and the amount in the hands of Wads worth & Sheldon for that purpose was about one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. Holders of the State bonds were informed this morning that the payment of the interest had been deferred. It probably is deferred until the State can collect from its taxe a sum sufficient to make another dividend. It is our impression that the bendholders will not re-ceive anything until another year. Messrs. Wads, worth & Sheldon have been the fiscal agents of the State of Illinois for several years—since 1847—when the partial payment of the interest on the State debt was resumed. The annual dividend heretofore has been small, and probably at no previous period had the State agents such a large amount of money in hand as at this juncture. The government of Illinois has for many years been struggling along under financial difficulties, and its bondholders have been waiting patiently for the payment of the arrears of interest. Just as the annual payment had reached a respectable amount, the fiscal agents suspend, and the State is at once deprived of its only available mesns. The bondholders will not lose the amount, its payment having only been deferred. We have noticed lately the failure of the fiscal agents of Virginia, by which that State lost nearly half a million of dollars. We have now another, by which the State of Illinois has lost a large sum. This matter should receive the attention of the legislatures of States where private houses are employed by the government in disbursing its money. change should be made at once, and some old est Hehed-well established-bank in Wall street should be the recipient of remittances, and employed to make the necessary disbursements. Individuals engaged in all sorts of speculative operations, in the negotiation of railroad loans, and in most of the bubble enterprises of the day, should not be entrusted with public funds. They are far from being safe depositories, and when most wanted are found wanting. We hope the treasurers of other States will take a lesson from Virginia and Illinois, and withdraw their accounts from individual houses and place them with some bank known to be safe and

We understand that Messrs. Wadsworth & Sheldon have liabilities amounting to about two millions of dollars, and that their assets fall far short of the sum. They have made an assignment. A large failure in South street was reported, caused by connections with a Western house engaged in the sugar trade-liabilities about one and a half million. One or two others were reported. The year has not opened auspiciously, and we should be prepared for more failures of a similar character Every effort has been made by the community to sustain themselves under the pressure and depres-sion, and the probability is that concerns which have thus far been able to maintain their credit, are in reality upon the very verge of bankruptcy, staggering along, and will ultimately stagger into the vortex which has swallowed up so many of our best and most enterprising business men. We have, it is feared, to see yet the results of all the losses realized during the past twelve months, and the appre bension is that it will be shown in a long list of insolvents. It is utterly impossible to pass through such a period of contraction and depression without destroying many of those involved in the gen ral movement. We have the killed and wounded in the contests for financial and commercial supremacy as well as in the contests for political and territorial preponderance.

foreign trade of this port, exceeding in the aggregate nearly that of all other ports in the country combined. The heaviest month last year was Janu. ary. This year it is likely to be the lightest.

The Governor of the State of New York, in his message to the Legislature, stated that the receipts of the general fund during the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1854, amounted to $1,955,527 42, and the payments to $1,817,850 98—deficiency at the close of the fiscal year, after providing for that of the previous year, $279,054 33. The receipts of the State canals, from tolls, rent of surplus waters and interest on current canal revenues, during the past year, amounted to $2,988,665 21, [and the aggregate expenditures for repairs, superintendence, &c., were $1,237,866 20. The surplus revenue was thus only $1,750,799 01. In accordance with the requirements of the constitution, the sum of $1,944,861 72 has been set apart for the various purposes specified in that instrument, including $200,000 toward the expenses of the State government. There is a deficiency, therefore, in the revenues of the canals of $194,062 71.

The total amount of circulating notes issued to banking associations and individual bankers, and outstanding on the 30th of September, 1854, was $24,661,572, for the redemption of which there were held in trust by the superintendent securities amounting to $25,962,160, of which $6,718,248 11 were in bonds and mortgages. The whole number of banks, banking associations and individual bankers in the State was 334; the amount of circulation was $43,962,535, and the whole amount of banking capital was $83,773,288, being increase of $7,081,-213 over the previous year.
